HumanRights360, implements a project, called "ensuring integration of recognized refugees", with the support of KAHANE Foundation. The objective of the project is to ensure an independent way of life and self-reliance for recognized refugees in Greece through the provision of a holistic system of services and daily coaching on all issues related to their integration. The project will support 60 households (approx. 240 beneficiaries) of recognised refugees to design personal plans and perform all necessary actions to achieve these integration plans, through guiding them in a variety of services, information and institutional processes.
